What is AILA?

The American Indian Library Association (AILA) is a membership action group that addresses the library-related needs of American Indians and Alaskan Natives.

AILA members are individuals and institutions interested in the development of programs to improve library and information services in all types of libraries that serve Indian communities.

AILA members exchange information about grants, projects, and pressing issues, collaborate on ways to support library services to AILA communities, and also work to ensure that the issues affecting Native populations are visible in ALA programming and priorities.
